Since 1905 Concordia University has been a Lutheran Christian institution committed to preparing servant leaders for service in many vocations. The theme for this academic year has been “Rooted” based on this Scripture from 1 Corinthians 15:58, “Therefore, my beloved, be steadfast, immovable, always excelling in the work of the Lord, because you know that in the Lord your labor is not in vain.”

These words are written at the end of a chapter detailing Jesus’ resurrection. This seminal event of Jesus walking out the grave alive is the foundation and the hope of the Christian church on earth. It is also the truth on which Concordia University was founded. The life of Concordia may be coming to an end with this last commencement, but the hope in which the school is rooted will forever live on in Jesus Christ. God bless all graduates, alumni, and former faculty and staff of Concordia University-Portland as we, together, bring this hope to the world.

WELCOME

Dear Graduates, Families, and Friends:

On behalf of the Board of Regents, faculty, and staff of Concordia University-Portland, welcome to the 2020 Spring Commencement ceremony. This event marks a significant turning point in the lives of you, our graduates, your families, and the communities in which you serve. It is a privilege to acknowledge your achievements and to send you forth with Christ’s blessing. We are incredibly proud of you and of the contributions you have already made to the campus and to the greater community.

The announcement that Concordia will cease operations at the end of this term and the social-distancing requirements brought on by COVID-19 have increased the challenge of completing your degree. Today we celebrate the fact that you met that challenge! You are ready to face the opportunities that lie before you—to think critically, to strategize in unpredictable and fast-changing environments, and to serve graciously.

You are now part of a global network of Concordia alumni. As a graduate, you join approximately 30,000 Concordia University-Portland graduates around the world. We hope you will stay connected with others who have shared your experience at CU, and tap into all the resources and connections that your Concordia education provides.

Continue to be open to transformation in your own life as you use your gifts and your education to help transform society. Tomorrow is a new day, once again, to make a difference.

Go in Peace to Love and Serve!

CHARGE & COMMISSIONING OF GRADUATES

Dr. Michelle Cowing

As graduates of Concordia University, you have been equipped to know and to understand both the ways of God and those of your fellow human beings. Now you are called to be leaders who transform society wherever the Lord takes you next. You are hereby commissioned to live out your vocations in Christ-centered service to your community and the world. As teachers, business leaders, lawyers, health and human care professionals, or whatever work God calls you to do, regardless of the specific nature of your vocation, carry out your unique and dynamic calling in ways that enlighten and strengthen those around you. All of you, live your lives as servant-leaders who give honor and glory to the God who created and redeemed you.

BLESSING & Benediction

Rev. Wes “Bo” Baumeister

RECESSIONAL

Please Note: The status of graduates listed in this program may change once all courses have been completed and grades posted. The presence of a name in this booklet does not obligate Concordia University-Portland to award a degree. For official purposes, a final accurate list of graduates will be retained by the Office of the Registrar of Concordia University-Portland and ultimately by Concordia University-St. Paul upon closure.

Academic costumes have their origin in the schools of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries when universities were most often administered by a faculty and staff associated with the church. The long gowns of the clergy were worn as a uniform of office and were supplemented by hoods and caps for protection from the cold. The gown, cap, and hood have been retained in academic communities to signify the scholarly achievement of the wearer.

The gowns are usually black although some schools use other colors. Caps, sometimes called mortarboards, have a tassel attached in the color of the wearer’s academic discipline. Hoods bear the heaviest symbolic burden, indicating by their length the level of the academic degree earned by the wearer and by their colors the area of learning in which the degree was earned and the institution awarding the degree. The colors and design of the lining of the hood represent the institution; e.g., Concordia is represented by royal blue and white chevrons. The colored strip around the hood indicates the academic area in which the degree was earned and the institution awarding the degree.

Srnai Bayanzul was an international student from Mongolia in our Master of Business Administration program who lived off-campus in the Portland area. Srnai was well-known on-campus, holding officer positions with the Associated Students of Concordia University (ASCU) and the International Student Club. She also held campus positions with Sodexo and the Student Accounts office. Srnai was always smiling, upbeat, kind, and caring to her core. She was adored by fellow CU students, staff, and faculty.
